Beautiful summertime at the Garden of Remembrance.

The summer months are a wonderful time to explore the Garden of Remembrance Memorial Park in Clarksburg, Maryland—just a short ride north from the I-495 and I-270 interchanges.

Take a long walk through landscaped pathways, cool off in the sun dappled forest preserve areas, and enjoy the mature trees and flowers amid a peaceful setting with quiet nature sounds around. Visit the hallowed grounds of your loved ones, and wander or rest on one of the many benches for quiet reflection in our Garden.

The Memorial Park offers our members comprehensive pre-planning services reflecting the full range of Jewish practices as well as honoring personal preferences. In addition to the unaffiliated areas, twenty congregations—Orthodox, Conservative, Reconstructionist, and Reform—have now reserved burial sections for their members.

By reserving a place at the Garden of Remembrance Memorial Park, you make a covenant with your fellow congregants to strengthen the tradition of unity with your community.

*Come to enjoy our beautiful landscape on 152 rolling acres in northern Montgomery County.
